Our Purpose

It's All About Relationship.

At Kent Construction we understand what ministry is all about: relationships. Whether it is with God our Creator or each other, we are all about building eternal relationships. As the apostle Paul wrote to the church at Colosse, "My purpose is that they may be encouraged in heart and united in love, so that they may have the full riches of complete understanding, in order that they may know the mystery of God, namely, Christ, in whom are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge." - Colossians 2:2

With a team that has both ministry and construction experience, we believe we are the perfect fit for your building ministry needs. Our founding principles of TEAMWORK, QUALITY, and VALUE, consistently raise our customers' expectations. Integrity is the core and cornerstone of what we do. It's the driver of teamwork, the measure of quality and value. In partnering with Kent, you are not only building facilities, but more importantly, lasting relationships!

Our Benefits

Meet Me At The Jobsite.

Kent wants to offer you more than just construction. By choosing Kent we want to connect with you and your congregation to make sure that your project glorifies the Lord throughout every stage. Our team approach will include unique ministry elements such as:

- Prayer Calendars
- Godly Graffiti
- Jobsite Encouragement and Praise
- Church Vision Sharing

Our Advantage

Design-Build = Expect More, Pay Less.

At Kent we understand the importance of stewardship and the sensitivity of church budgets, which is why we are proud of our Design-Build services. When you choose design-build construction by Kent, you work with one team from concept through completion. We take sole responsibility for every aspect of your project. There are no extra steps and no need to coordinate the efforts of multiple organizations.

Our team building approach brings the best people, the brightest ideas and most effective techniques and technologies to your project. Better communication means a better result.

Kent Design-Build gives you greater control, a streamlined completion schedule and improved risk management. Cost is established earlier in the process. Re-designs are eliminated. Construction is expedited. Your project finishes faster. Your expectations are raised higher at a lower cost.

“I was most impressed with Kent’s commitment to doing the job right.

If a particular aspect of the project did not meet their high standard it was redone, and even after the project was complete they continued to check in, making sure things were working properly.”

The ROC, First Baptist Church – Covington, LA

“They know how to work with churches to help you fulfill your vision and provide for the future.

We have used Kent on three large construction projects and have found them to be honest, reliable, and efficient.”
