Our Story:

We raise expectations with teamwork, quality and value.

Kyle Kent started the company in 1996. As a graduate in Construction Management from Northeast Louisiana University, Kyle has a keen instinct for knowing what customers want most and how best to deliver it. He built Kent Construction, Inc., to simple, customer-centered specifications: teamwork, quality and value. We continue to work to those specs today.

We're a young, dynamic, growing firm grounded in our founding vision. We work closely with our customers. At every point, our purpose is to give them more than they expect. Better service. A better end result. We consider a project complete only when our customer is totally satisfied.

There are more than 40 of us headquartered in our landmark home office building on Highway 59 in Mandeville, LA. We have many specialized skills and professional backgrounds. We share a single priority: raising our customers' expectations with the highest levels of teamwork, quality and value.

Our Strength:

In our approach to construction, everything rises up from the foundation.

You can't build integrity. You have it or you don't. If you have it, you're building on the best and strongest foundation—whether you're building an organization or an office complex. Integrity is the core and cornerstone of what we do and the way we do it. It's the driver of teamwork, the measure of quality and value.

We work as closely with our customers as we do with one another. Owners are members of the team. So are the architects and subcontractors we partner with on our projects. Plain, straight-forward communication keeps us all on the same page, moving efficiently forward together.

Our experience makes working with us a simpler, more rewarding experience. So does our command of advanced project management systems. We can even provide comprehensive design-build services that ensure Kent quality and value from initial planning through completion. We build on the strength of our foundation.

Teamwork • Quality • Value

Our Advantage:

Our design-build option is simpler, quicker and more cost-effective.

When you choose design-build construction by Kent, you work with one team from concept through completion. We take sole responsibility for every aspect of your project. There are no extra steps, no need to coordinate the efforts of multiple organizations, no dropped balls.

Our Kent Design-Build option integrates all the disciplines that touch a construction project under our proven leadership and management. Our team building approach brings the best people, the brightest ideas and the most effective techniques and technologies to your project. Better communication means a better result.

Kent Design-Build gives you greater control, a streamlined completion schedule and improved risk management. Cost is established earlier in the process. Re-designs are eliminated. Construction is expedited. Your project finishes faster. Your expectations are raised higher at a lower cost.

Our Network:

We're better builders. We're Butler builders.

Butler Manufacturing Company is the worldwide leader in pre-engineered building solutions. That's why we joined the Butler Builder Network. It's the world's largest network of construction professionals, with more than 1,400 members. Working with Butler, we offer you the industry's best pre-engineered building systems.

Our Butler connection enables us to provide affordable, high-quality metal construction systems for a broad range of end uses. Whether you need a basic steel building, a retrofit roof, a complex facility or one requiring vast open spaces, the Kent-Butler team will respond with fast, easy, environmentally friendly solutions.

Our Scope:

When we build, we build confidence.

We work with clients whose construction needs range from banks to churches, from government buildings to carwashes, from retail centers to restaurants. We build warehouses, office complexes, health clubs and recreational facilities. They all have one thing in common: Whatever we build, we're also building confidence.

In our profession, confidence is something you earn, project by project, one client at a time. You do it by delivering on your commitments and giving your clients more than they might expect. More quality. More value. More reasons to be certain that they've chosen the right construction partner.

Our Medical Specialty:

The Kent prescription: Better quality, greater value.

We are unique in our ability to fulfill the construction requirements of diagnostic imaging facilities. Our Medical Specialty Division staff has over 30 years of experience in planning, managing and completing these highly exacting projects. As always, we build in extra value and lasting quality.

We are an approved turnkey vendor for GE Healthcare, Philips Healthcare, Siemens Medical Solutions and Toshiba Medical Solutions. We are also an approved vendor for Varian Medical, the premier manufacturer of radiation therapy systems. Like our suppliers, we are leaders. Like our clients, we are uncompromising.

Our Promise:

Build with Kent. Build to a higher standard.

We've been raising our customers' expectations with exceptional teamwork, quality and value since Kyle Kent set the foundation for our future in 1996. We're building on Kyle's vision of a better way today. You can, too.
